

Hand up for DV help line

A STRUGGLING Queensland women's legal helpline has been saved by an eleventh-hour donation.

The Women's Legal Service Queensland (WLSQ) can operate for at least three more months after charity Hand Heart Pocket stepped in with a $120,000 lifeline.

WLSQ chief executive Angela Lynch said the funds came at a "crucial time" for the organisation, which has not secured full government funding. WLSQ receives 13,000 calls for help annually from vulnerable Queensland women.