

The epidemic of rape culture in schools can no longer be ignored. Men are not the enemy, even when they are the aggressor. Rejection is not a punishment, even when it is used to punish. Rape culture is not a myth, even when it is used to dismiss. Support it, even when it is used to support. Why sexist? How to interrupt the pattern of sexual violence? Boys will be boys.

Sexual Violence Awareness Month

Domestic Violence Action Centre

in partnership with

University of Southern Queensland presents

Clementine Ford

Clementine Ford is a Melbourne-based writer, speaker and feminist thinker. Through her twice-weekly columns for Daily Life, Clementine explores issues of gender inequality and pop culture. Clementine's first book was Fight Like a Girl (2016). Her second book Boys Will Be Boys will be released in October 2018.

Clementine's work has radically challenged the issues of men's violence against women and rape culture in Australia, while her comedic take on casual sexism and entertainment has earned her a reputation as an accomplished satirist.

Join us to hear Clementine discuss her new book and the issues it raises. There will also be a guest performance from the Being Heard Production 2018.

- Monday 8th October 2018
- 5.30pm for light refreshments, event to begin at 6pm.

Event will conclude by 8pm

- The Auditorium, Building J131, Ipswich USQ Campus

Free Parking is available— General Parking areas only.

Public transport is available via the 515 Bus (runs via the Ipswich Railway Station).

Registration is required for this event. Tickets are free and can be booked via EVENTBRITE—Search Sexual Violence Awareness Month – Clementine Ford.

Tickets can also be booked by calling DVAC on (07) 3816 3000