CLCQ State Conference 2020 prizes

This year's lucky door and trivia prizes have been purchased from some of the amazing vendors of Meeanjin Markets! Lucky door prizes will be drawn at the end of day one and two, and a special prize for the closing session attendees.

The prize packs will feature:

- Beautiful hand painted flax linen tea-towels made by Quandamooka woman, Delvene Cockatoo-Collins, of Cockatoo-Collins Studio. Delvene is an artist that lives and works on Minjerribah - North Stradbroke Island.
- Deluxe hand-made soaps from paperbarklove, a skincare label owned by Kungarakan woman, Amanda Watts. Amanda takes inspiration from her Kungarakan paperbark heritage to create lovingly crafted products using natural and simple ingredients.
- A one-of-kind handpainted ceramic mug from Bomsky Studio, an initiative of Koori artist Sylvia Khan. Sylvia comes from the Bundjalung Nation, Coraki - Box Ridge.

Due to Covid-19 restrictions, Meeanjin Markets are being held online on 27 November 2020. You can attend the live market virtually via Facebook and YouTube.
