

Leading for effective collaboration

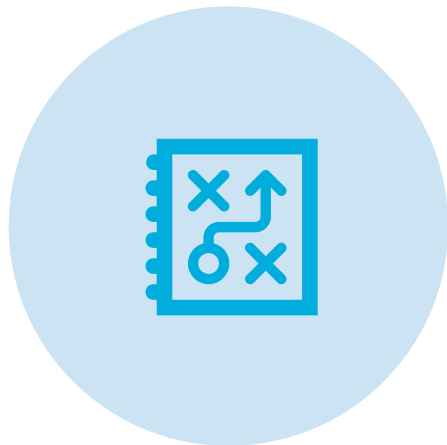

Lessons from health justice partnership

1 June 2023

Kate Finch (she/her), Strategic Advocacy Manager
Lottie Turner (she/her), Partnerships Director

What's on the agenda?

First up: What have we learnt about leading effective collaboration through HJP?

Then: Translating these lessons into your own leadership context.

Lesson 1: Foundations matter

Lesson 2: Good governance matters

Lesson 3: The work environment matters

Your future partnership state

Think about a future state where your organisation is humming in its implementation of effective partnership...

- What changes have you made to your own leadership practice to enable that future state? What support did you need to make those changes?
- What changes has your organisation made to enable effective partnership? What support did the organisation need to make those changes?
- How are CLCs working together to share lessons and support good practice?
- What are three things you can action as a result of today's session?

You have the right foundations

Stay in touch

Kate Finch

Strategic Advocacy Manager

Kate.Finch@healthjustice.org.au

Lottie Turner

Partnerships Director

Lottie.Turner@healthjustice.org.au